

EDITORIAL
PHOTOGRAPHY

INTRODUCTION

We are a collective of visual storytellers, led by Drew Bird, specializing in editorial photography for media, online, and print publications. We create captivating images to accompany written articles, books, and other media based storytelling.

Still images help to communicate a story that words alone cannot convey. Our creative team has more than ten years experience producing photo stories for clients all over the world.

Our clients include magazines, news papers, book publishers, media publications, corporations, brands, movie productions, universities, businesses, and organizations in search of powerful and unique still photography.

We are based in San Francisco, California and photograph for clients world-wide.

CLIENTS & TESTIMONIALS

Drew Bird and his creative team are excellent professionals. Their images are breathtaking. And their talent, work ethic and dependability is why I fly them all over the world to help tell our visual stories. From pre-planning to final image delivery, I always know I'm receiving top level service and world-class photography.

The Drew Bird team captures artistic moments and shape them into a beautiful story. Drew is also an absolute pleasure to work with. He is personable and enjoyable. He's also dependable: I have full trust in Drew and never have to worry about him or his team.

I highly recommend the Drew Bird Photo team for any project.

RACHELE C.

Adobe, San Jose, CA, USA

Working with Drew Bird and his team is always a fantastic experience. He understands exactly what we need for our stories and easily works within our creative direction while also offering his creative viewpoints. He constantly strives to discover and create the best images that any setting has to offer, and has a skill for capturing the action in a way that feels natural yet reflects the energy of the moment and the essence of the story.

We are always happy with the final images and with the Drew Bird team's positive energy and enthusiasm. On top of all this, Drew is a genuinely engaging and intelligent person — an excellent communicator who is skillful at adapting to new challenges, Drew is not only a professional storyteller with the camera; he is a business professional as well. This is why we fly him all over the world to create photo stories for our clients.

JESS T.

Firebrand Marketing, Atlanta, GA, USA

INSTANT SAME-DAY IMAGE DELIVERY

Let's make it easy to tell your story to the world - in near real-time.*

Instant delivery is great for social media and publication deadlines that simply cannot wait until tomorrow. With instant delivery you'll get access to our photo story as it happens.

Our on-site digital editor will coordinate with your publication and media teams. We will curate, edit, and deliver images to you in near real-time as the photographs are created.

* A digital editor is required for same-day instant delivery. This extra person on our creative team can be included in any editorial photo package.

EDITORIAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Drew Bird and our team specialize in creative visual storytelling for media, online, and print publications. We create captivating images to accompany written articles and stories and to serve as a historical archive. Our style includes a blend of photojournalism, lifestyle, creative portraiture, architectural, landscape, and adventure still photography.

We have produced and published photo stories on a wide range of subjects including climate change, environmental issues, social justice, demonstrations, science and public health, subcultures, art and performance, travel, sport culture, surfing, education, agriculture, live music, business culture, and politics.

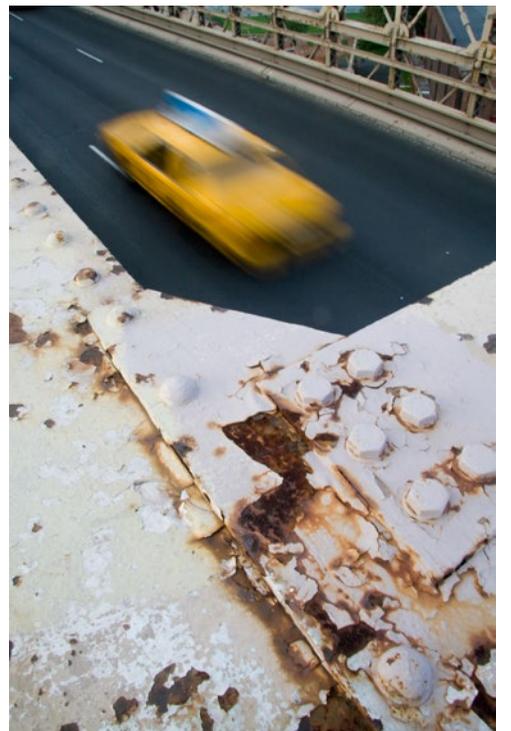

PROCESS | DREW BIRD PHOTOGRAPHY

OVERVIEW

We are a collective of visual storytellers, led by Drew Bird, specializing in editorial photography and visual storytelling. We create compelling and unique still images that will engage your audience and help tell your story.

Still images help to communicate a story that words alone cannot convey. Our creative team has more than ten years experience creating photo stories all over the world. Our clientele include magazines, newspapers, book publishers, media publications, corporations, brands, marketing agencies, movie productions, foundations, businesses, non-profit organizations, and businesses in search of captivating photography.

We are based in San Francisco, California and photograph for clients world-wide.

SCALE

The size of our photography and creative team can be scaled to match the size of any project. Whether we need to go small with a single photographer or if your project requires multiple photographers, digital editors, and photography assistants, we can custom tailor our team to meet your needs.

KICKOFF

Inquire with us about your project needs and potential dates. Or schedule a phone or video chat consultation with Drew.

Every project is unique. We will build you a custom proposal to meet your needs.

DISCOVERY

Included with every project are multiple pre-planning meetings via phone or video chat. We will work with your editorial and media team to identify your photo needs and aesthetics. We will work with you to co-create an itinerary and production schedule for each day of photography. Site visits and location scouting are available for any project. We will also invest time on our end to research and understand the context, history, background, and nuance of the people and culture that we will be photographing. Powerful photography begins with understanding and empathy.

CREATIVE

The foundation of your photo story will be rooted in an authentic and natural photojournalistic and lifestyle approach, capturing the essence of the subject matter in a robust, artistic, and honest way. Our creative team also provides editorial portraits, headshots, images of architecture, cityscapes and landscapes, and photos of important details that help to tell the story. Our visual storytelling is dynamic and a blend of many styles. The end result is powerful photography sure to engage your target audience. We will custom tailor our approach to meet your needs as identified during the Discovery phase.

INSTANT DELIVERY

Let's make it easy to tell your story to the world - in near real-time.*

Instant delivery is great for social media and publication deadlines that simply cannot wait until tomorrow. With instant delivery you'll get access to our photo story as it happens.

Our on-site digital editor will coordinate with your publication and media teams. We will curate, edit, and deliver images to you in near real-time as the photographs are created.

* A digital editor is required for same-day instant delivery. This extra person on our creative team can be included in any editorial photo package.

POST-PRODUCTION

After the photography portion is complete we will cull, edit, and optimize the final images. The final photo story is normally finished and ready within five days after we finish photography. But this depends on the project. We'll build a private online proof gallery for you and you'll select your top images for final delivery. The total number of images delivered to you can be customized for any project. The image delivery timeline and total deliverables are dependent on your project needs. Rush delivery options are available as an add-on to any package. All image deliveries are made via digital download.

CUSTOM MOBILE APP GALLERY

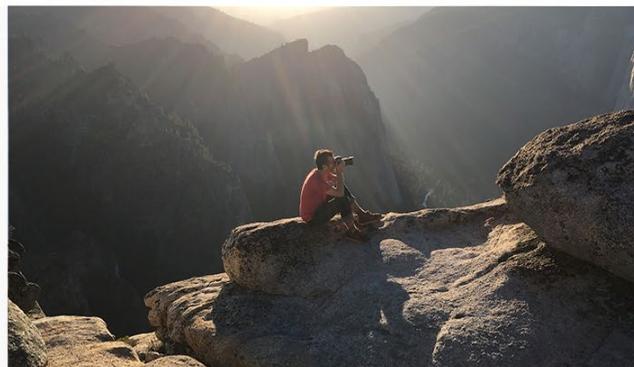

We can also build a custom mobile app photo gallery for you as an add-on to any package. Mobile apps are a great way to share a "best-of" selection of images from our project with your team, executives, sponsors, and partners. Using a phone or a tablet, click here to download and view an example mobile app gallery.

ADD-ONS

- Site visits and location scouting days.
- Non-photography days to acculturate with the subjects.
- Multiple photographers for bigger projects.
- Photo Assistants and Digital Techs.
- On-site digital editor for same-day image processing and instant delivery.
- Rush delivery if you need images faster than our standard delivery times.

MORE INFO

- View Recent Projects: Private Gallery
- For Commercial Photography
- For Corporate Lifestyle Photography
- For Event Photography
- For Movie Set Photography
- For Professional Portraits & Headshots
- Our Main Portfolio Site

LET'S CREATE A PHOTO STORY TOGETHER

We are a collective of San Francisco based photographers and storytellers led by Drew Bird. Still images help us all understand our experience and to communicate a story that words alone cannot convey. We love collaborating with clients to transform ideas and experiences into photo stories.

We are available for hire world-wide and have a plethora of experience creating fresh and captivating visual content for magazines, news agencies, media publications, book publishers, universities, government agencies, brands, corporations, motion picture productions, and organizations in search of professional and powerful photography.

When not travelling for a project, Drew lives in Oakland, California with his sweet-lady Zoom and a little lemon tree in the back yard.

Every client project is unique. Contact us with a description of your photo needs and we will put together a custom proposal for you.

EMAIL drew@drewbirdphoto.com

WEB drewbirdphoto.com

STORIES drewbirdstories.com

INSTAGRAM @drew_bird_photo

THANK YOU
HOPE TO HEAR FROM YOU SOON!